

Privacy Policy

1.0 PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to:

- Clearly communicate the personal information handling practices of The DLD Project Foundation;
- Enhance the transparency of The DLD Project Foundation operations; and
- Give individuals a better and more complete understanding of the sort of personal information that The DLD Project Foundation holds, and the way we handle that information.

This Policy explains our general information handling practices across The DLD Project Foundation and provides information about how we collect, use, disclose and store your personal information.

2.0 SCOPE

This Policy applies to all staff, volunteers, members and supporters of The DLD Project Foundation. A reference to “employees” or “staff” includes permanent, fixed-term, temporary and casual employees, directors, contractors, volunteers and other representatives acting on behalf of The DLD Project Foundation in any capacity. This Policy applies to all clients of The DLD Project Foundation.

3.0 PRINCIPLES

The DLD Project Foundation respects the privacy of all members, employees, volunteers, clients, families, donors, business partners and online users, and is committed to safeguarding the personal information provided to us.

3.1 Overview of The DLD Project Foundation Programs and Services

The DLD Project Foundation is a not-for-profit organisation with a mission to support people living with Developmental Language Disorder (DLD). In carrying out this mission The DLD Project Foundation engages employees and volunteers, and receives donations, funding and support from members of the community, corporations, groups and governments. In providing all services, The DLD Project Foundation complies with national and relevant state privacy principles and any additional obligations under the service agreement or funding contract.

3.2 Our Obligations Under the Privacy Act

This Privacy Policy sets out how we comply with our obligations under the Privacy Act 1988 (Privacy Act). We are bound by the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs) in the Privacy Act which regulate how organisations may collect, use, disclose and store personal information, and how individuals may access and correct personal information held about them.

3.3 Collection of Personal and Sensitive Information

If you would like to access any The DLD Project Foundation Services on an anonymous basis or using a pseudonym, please tell us. If this is possible and lawful, we will take all reasonable steps to comply with your request. However, we may not be able to provide the services in question if we are not provided with the personal information requested.

To verify how that website collects and uses information, the user should check that website's policy.

6.0 HOW WE COLLECT INFORMATION

Where possible, we collect your personal and sensitive information directly from you. We collect information through various means, including telephone and in-person interviews, appointments, forms and questionnaires. If you feel the information that we are requesting, either on our forms or in our discussions with you, is not information you wish to provide, please feel free to raise this with us.

In some situations, we may also obtain personal information about you from a third-party source. If we collect information about you in this way, we will take reasonable steps to contact you and ensure you are aware of the purposes for which we are collecting your personal information and the organisations to which we may disclose your information, subject to any exceptions under the Act. For example, we may collect information about you from a health care professional, such as your doctor.

7.0 HEALTH INFORMATION

As part of administering The DLD Project Foundation services, The DLD Project Foundation may collect health information. For example, The DLD Project Foundation collects health information

(such as medical history) from some clients/families participating in The DLD Project Foundation programs. When collecting health information from you, The DLD Project Foundation will obtain your consent to such collection and explain how the information will be used and disclosed.

If health information is collected from a third party (such as your doctor), The DLD Project Foundation will inform you that this information has been collected and will explain how this information will be used and disclosed.

The DLD Project Foundation will not use health information beyond the consent provided by you, unless your further consent is obtained or in accordance with one of the exceptions under the Privacy Act or in compliance with another law. If The DLD Project Foundation uses your health information for research or statistical purposes, it will be deidentified if practicable.

8.0 USE AND DISCLOSURE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

The DLD Project Foundation only uses personal information for the purposes for which it was given to us, or for purposes which are related to one of our functions or activities. For the purposes referred to in this Privacy Policy (discussed above under 'Collection of Personal and Sensitive Information'), we may also disclose your personal information to other external organisations including:

- Government departments/agencies who provide funding for The DLD Project Foundation services;
- Contractors who manage some of the services we offer to you, such as distribution centres who may send information to you on behalf of The DLD Project Foundation;
- Doctors and health care professionals, who assist us to deliver our services;
- Other regulatory bodies, such as Workplace Health & Safety Queensland;
- Former and prospective employers of current and prospective consenting The DLD Project Foundation employees and volunteers, for purposes of reference-checking;
- Our professional advisors, including our accountants, auditors and lawyers.

Wherever possible, steps are taken to ensure these external organisations comply with the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs) when they handle personal information and are authorised only to use personal information in order to provide the services or to perform the functions required by The DLD Project Foundation.

Except as set out above, The DLD Project Foundation will not disclose an individual's personal information to a third party unless one of the following applies:

- the individual has consented;
- the individual would reasonably expect us to use or give that information for another purpose related to the purpose for which it was collected (or in the case of sensitive information – directly related to the purpose for which it was collected);
- it is otherwise required or authorised by law;
- it will prevent or lessen a serious threat to somebody's life, health or safety or to public health or safety;
- it is reasonably necessary for us to take appropriate action in relation to suspected unlawful activity, or misconduct of a serious nature that relates to our functions or activities;
- it is reasonably necessary to assist in locating a missing person;
- it is reasonably necessary to establish, exercise or defend a claim at law;
- it is reasonably necessary for a confidential dispute resolution process;
- it is necessary to provide a health service;
- it is necessary for the management, funding or monitoring of a health service relevant to public health or public safety;

- it is necessary for research or the compilation or analysis of statistics relevant to public health or public safety;
- it is reasonably necessary for the enforcement of a law conducted by an enforcement body.

We do not usually send personal information out of Australia. If we are otherwise required to send information overseas we will take measures to protect your personal information. We will protect your personal information either by ensuring the country of destination has similar protections in relation to privacy or we will enter into contractual arrangements with the recipient of your personal information to safeguard your privacy.

9.0 SECURITY OF PERSONAL AND SENSITIVE INFORMATION

The DLD Project Foundation takes reasonable steps to protect the personal and sensitive information we hold against misuse, interference, loss, unauthorised access, modification and disclosure. These steps include password protection for accessing our systems, securing paper files in locked cabinets and physical access restrictions. Only authorised personnel are permitted to access this information. Employees and volunteers must ensure any breach or potential breach, no matter how minor it may appear at the time, is reported immediately to the board. Potential breaches can result from:

- Providing personal information or a client file without a legitimate reason or purpose;
- Leaving files containing personal information unsecured (this might include leaving a page open on a computer screen);
- Providing passwords to unauthorised persons.

Potential breaches are reported to the board who will determine if an investigation of the breach is required and report externally, including to the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner (OAIC) if/as required. The DLD Project Foundation will report all Notifiable Data Breaches to any affected individuals and the (OAIC).

A Notifiable Data Breach occurs when:

- there is unauthorised access to or disclosure of information; or
- information has been lost;
- it is reasonably likely to result in 'serious harm' to an individual to whom the information relates.

If a privacy breach occurs, The DLD Project Foundation will identify any affected individuals and assess whether they are likely to suffer serious harm. An investigation will be conducted within 30 days. If serious harm (including serious physical, emotional, financial or reputational harm) has occurred, The DLD Project Foundation will notify the affected individual/s and the OAIC.

The DLD Project Foundation will ensure all commercial contracts with parties with whom The DLD Project Foundation shares information specify who is responsible for assessing and reporting privacy breaches. Where there are two or more parties involved in a breach, The DLD Project Foundation will make a notification.

10.0 ACCESS TO AND CORRECTION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

If an individual requests access to the personal information we hold about them, or requests that we change that personal information, we will allow access or make the changes unless we consider there is a sound reason under the Privacy Act or other relevant law to withhold the information, or not make the changes.

Requests for access and/or correction should be made to the board. For security reasons, you will be required to put your request in writing and provide proof of your identity. This is necessary to ensure personal information is provided only to the correct individuals and the privacy of others is not undermined.

In the first instance, The DLD Project Foundation will generally provide a summary of the information held about the individual. It will be assumed (unless told otherwise) that the request relates to current records. These current records will include personal information which is included in The DLD Project Foundation databases and in paper files, and which may be used on a day-to-day basis.

We will provide access by allowing you to inspect, take notes or print outs of personal information that we hold about you. If personal information (for example, your name and address details) is duplicated across different databases, The DLD Project Foundation will generally provide one printout of this information, rather than multiple printouts.

We will take all reasonable steps to provide access or the information requested within 14 days of your request. In situations where the request is complicated or requires access to a large volume of information, we will take all reasonable steps to provide access to the information requested within 30 days.

The DLD Project Foundation may charge you reasonable fees to reimburse us for costs we incur relating to your request for access to information, including in relation to photocopying and delivery cost of information stored off site. For current fees, please contact the board. If an individual establishes that personal information The DLD Project Foundation holds about her/him is not accurate, complete or up to date, The DLD Project Foundation will take reasonable steps to correct our records.

Access will be denied if:

- the request does not relate to the personal information of the person making the request;
- providing access would pose a serious threat to the life, health or safety of a person or to public health or public safety;
- providing access would create an unreasonable impact on the privacy of others;
- the request is frivolous or vexatious;
- the request relates to existing or anticipated legal proceedings;
- providing access would prejudice negotiations with the individual making the request;
- access would be unlawful;
- denial of access is authorised or required by law;
- access would prejudice law enforcement activities;
- access would prejudice an action in relation to suspected unlawful activity, or misconduct of a serious nature relating to the functions or activities of The DLD Project Foundation;
- access discloses a 'commercially sensitive' decision making process or information; or
- any other reason that is provided for in the APP's or in the Privacy Act.

If we deny access to information we will set our reasons for denying access. Where there is a dispute about your right of access to information or forms of access, this will be dealt with in accordance with the complaints procedure set out below.

11.0 COMPLAINTS

If you have provided us with personal and sensitive information, or we have collected and hold your personal and sensitive information, you have a right to make a complaint and have it investigated and dealt with under this complaints procedure.

If you have a complaint about The DLD Project Foundation privacy practices or our handling of your personal and sensitive information, please contact our board.

A privacy complaint relates to any concern that you may have regarding The DLD Project Foundation privacy practices or our handling of your personal and sensitive information. This could include matters such as how your information is collected or stored, how your information is used or disclosed or how access is provided to your personal and sensitive information.

The goal of this policy is to achieve an effective resolution of your complaint within a reasonable timeframe, usually 30 days or as soon as practicable. However, in some cases, particularly if the matter is complex, the resolution may take longer.

Once the complaint has been made, we may resolve the matter in a number of ways such as:

- Request for further information: We may request further information from you. You should be prepared to provide us with as much information as possible, including details of any relevant dates and documentation. This will enable us to investigate the complaint and determine an appropriate solution. All details provided will be kept confidential.
- Discuss options: We will discuss options for resolution with you and if you have suggestions about how the matter might be resolved you should raise these with our board.
- Investigation: Where necessary, the complaint will be investigated. We will try to do so within a reasonable time frame. It may be necessary to contact others in order to proceed with the investigation and progress your complaint.
- Conduct of our employees: If your complaint involves the conduct of our employees we will raise the matter with the employee concerned and seek their comment and input in the resolution of the complaint.
- The complaint is substantiated: If your complaint is found to be substantiated, you will be informed of this finding. We will then take appropriate agreed steps to resolve the complaint, address your concerns and prevent the problem from recurring.
- If the complaint is not substantiated, or cannot be resolved to your satisfaction, but this Privacy Policy has been followed, The DLD Project Foundation may decide to refer the issue to an appropriate intermediary. For example, this may mean an appropriately qualified lawyer or an agreed third party, to act as a mediator.

At the conclusion of the complaint, if you are still not satisfied with the outcome you are free to take your complaint to the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner at www.oaic.gov.au. We will keep a record of your complaint and the outcome.

We are unable to deal with anonymous complaints. This is because we are unable to investigate and follow-up such complaints. However, in the event an anonymous complaint is received we will note the issues raised and, where appropriate, try and investigate and resolve them appropriately.

12.0 CHANGES TO THIS POLICY

The DLD Project Foundation reserves the right to review, amend and/or update this policy from time to time. We aim to comply with the APPs and other privacy requirements required to be observed under State or Commonwealth Government contracts. If further privacy legislation and/or self-regulatory codes are introduced or our Privacy Policy is updated, we will summarise any substantial modifications or enhancements in this section of our Privacy Policy
